What is a learning style?

■ Basically, it is the way we develop better learning.

---

There are 3 types of learning styles:

- Visual learners
- Auditory learners
- Kinesthetic learners

We are going to focus on auditory learners.

The auditory style

- An auditory learner is someone whose best way to learn is through hearing information.
- In this type of style people tend to learn better by speaking, too.

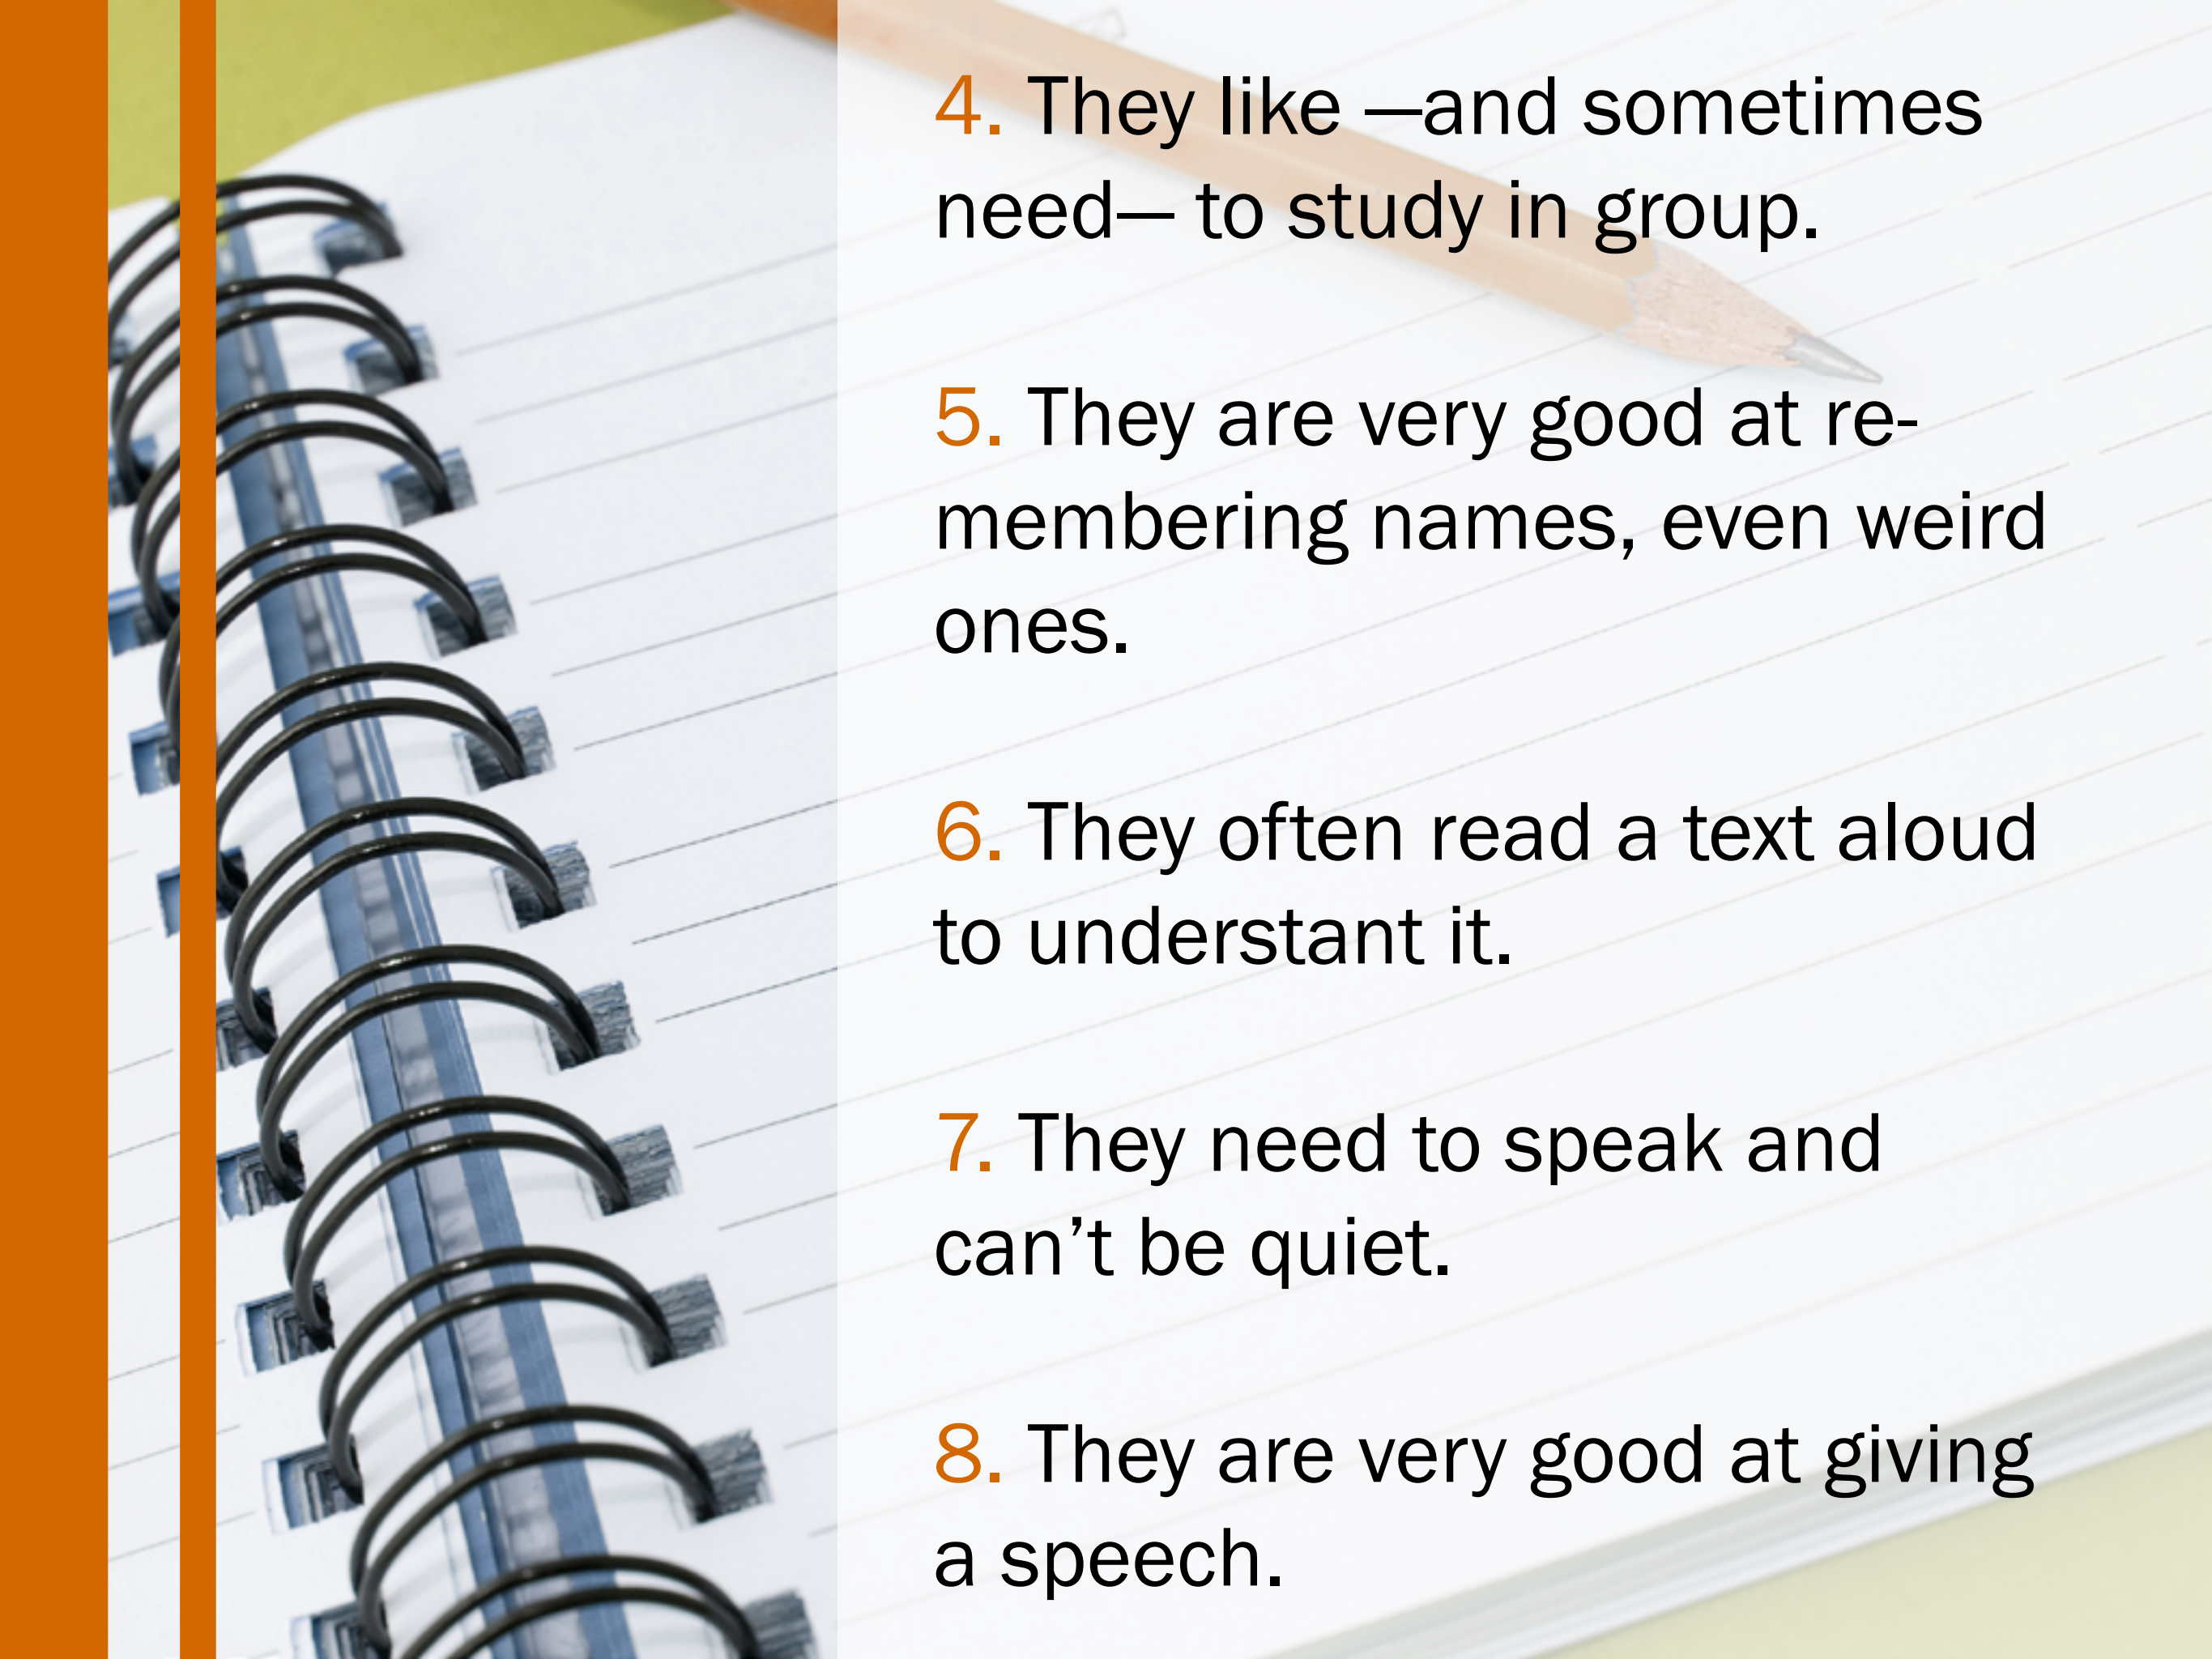

The background of the slide features a close-up, slightly angled view of a spiral-bound notebook. The notebook has white pages with light blue horizontal ruling. A black metal spiral binding is visible on the left side. In the upper right corner, a portion of a light-colored wooden pencil is visible, pointing towards the right. The overall lighting is soft and even.

Main Characteristics

1. They are very good at organising all types of information.
2. When hearing something they tend to remember it.
3. They enjoy music, and some of them need a background sound or a melody to study.

4. They like –and sometimes need– to study in group.

5. They are very good at remembering names, even weird ones.

6. They often read a text aloud to understand it.

7. They need to speak and can't be quiet.

8. They are very good at giving a speech.

The overall lighting is soft and even.

9. They find easy learning a foreign language.

10. They usually ask questions and try to find accurate and reasoned answers.

11. The directions given to them should be oral better than written.

12. They talk to themselves and think aloud.

Some tips to improve

Are you an auditory learner?
Here there are some steps you
may try to do:

1. Participate in class debates.
2. Listen audios for readings.
3. Try to understand songs' lyrics.

4. Repeat and repeat information to memorize it.

5. Say a word or a text and try to spell it.

6. Discuss your own ideas with somebody else or with a group.

7. Record a word and then listen to it.

8. Emphasize the proper use of sounds.

---

Of course it is a must
to use not only the style
that best matches you,
but all of them.
